MESHO MORROW

Mesho Morrow was an Honor Society Student and three-sport athlete at Lincoln Senior High in East St. Louis, IL. Upon graduation, Mesho attended Kansas University on a full four-year basketball scholarship. She helped lead her team to two consecutive Big 8 tournament championships and second-round NCAA Tournament appearances.

Pursuing her passion for basketball eventually led Mesho to her current position as owner of St. Louis' newest Women's Pro Development Basketball Team, the Arch Angels. In her words, "I am very glad to have the opportunity to impact the lives of these young ladies for good, through this great game of basketball.

"I gave my life to CHRIST while attending college at Kansas University in the fall of 1988. I love JESUS because HE knew that I would need a strong relationship with HIM in order to get through the darkest moment in my life, when I would come home and walk into the gruesome murder scene of my mom. The peace that passes all understanding consumed me as I walked through my home viewing the aftermath of this vicious crime.

"If you want to know how I made it and how GOD has used me to do things like call a lady back to life who died inside of Jamestown mall; as well as HIS current call to express HIS love through the Arch Angels Women's Professional Development Basketball, then come and hear my testimony."
